CALL FOR PAPERS

Call for Papers: Androgens: Clinical Research and Therapeutics Now Open for Submissions

Editor-in-Chief: Abdulmaged M. Traish, MBA, PhD; Boston University School of Medicine, Boston, Massachusetts, USA.

Androgens: Clinical Research and Therapeutics, a new Gold Open Access peer-reviewed journal published by Mary Ann Liebert, Inc. publishers, is pleased to announce that the journal is now open for submissions of manuscripts.

Androgens: Clinical Research and Therapeutics is the official journal of the Androgen Society, with the aim of serving as the premier global journal for science, research, and education regarding testosterone deficiency (hypogonadism) and its treatment. The overarching goal is to publish the highest quality articles from all disciplines of medicine, bringing together on one platform the numerous areas of research on testosterone deficiencies and its treatment.

The Journal will consider a variety of submissions including original articles, reviews, opinions, round table discussions, debates, point/counterpoint submissions, and case reports, as well as other scientific and educational research that support this rapidly evolving and advancing field of medicine.

Suggested topic areas include, but not limited to:

- The study of testosterone therapies in men, women, children, transgender individuals, and aging populations
- Testosterone deficiency (hypogonadism) and its treatment
- Sexual function and dysfunction
- Prostate diseases
- Urology
- Muscle growth and function
- Orthopedics
- Bone health
- Vascular health
- Metabolism
- Obesity
- Diabetes
- Ocular function
- Cognitive function

- Neurology
