Transgender Health Accepted for Indexing in PubMed Central and Inclusion in PubMed

Robert Garofalo^{1,*} and Jordan L. Schilling²

We are proud to announce that Transgender Health has been accepted for inclusion in PubMed Central and PubMed. Transgender Health is the first and only peer-reviewed journal dedicated to transgender healthcare to be accepted for inclusion in PubMed Central and PubMed. This is a huge milestone for the Journal and the transgender health community.

I would like to thank our dedicated associate editors and our amazing editorial board for their unwavering dedication to moving the journal forward. We are grateful to our authors who published their valuable research with us. Most importantly, a big thank you is due to our peer reviewers who dedicated countless hours to high-quality peer review. Maintaining the highest standards of editorial and peer review is paramount to Transgen- der Health, and we provide quality review for articles submitted to the journal.

The year 2017 has been a blockbuster year for us. We hope Transgender Health will continue to inspire all medical and healthcare professionals to recognize the urgent need to deliver optimal care to the transgender community and move the needle forward in improving transgender healthcare. I encourage all our readers to consider submitting your research to the Journal for publication.

We look forward to your contributions.
